Association of Business Discusses Tourism

Wave 29 Nov 1984

The meeting was opened by President Alan Day.

The first subject of discussion was the budget for the tourism committee of the WCAB. It has not yet been presented to the county commission, but will be this week. It was noted that action must be taken quickly in order to do winter advertising. Also regarding the tourism committee was a short discussion regarding the "information caboose." Some think that the caboose is outdated, and is not open enough hours. It was mentioned that the WCAB might consider expanding the caboose, or building a different type of information center. The new information center should include a map of Heber showing business locations, brochures, lists of events.

The retail trade committee reported on the on-going cash give-away. There still has not been a winner, this week's drawing will be at Finn's. The amount is $200. Interest and entry forms have grown weekly.

Ken Smith gave an introduction to the WCAB of a new business moving into town. WCAB board members will attend a meeting tomorrow to meet and discuss this new company with the people responsible for bringing this new company to town.

It was also mentioned that the meeting for the sign ordinance is scheduled for Dec. 11. The WCAB needs to form an opinion on the ordinance by that time.

Answering a request from the Heber City Council, the WCAB has issued the following on the subject of home occupations:

The Wasatch County Association of Businesses feels that all businesses must be treated in a fair and equitable manner. All businesses should be licensed and should conform to zoning codes. If a variance is needed to conform to code, the license holder should be referred to the Board of Adjustments.

The next meeting of the WCAB board will be held at 12:00 noon on Dec. 3 at Blazing Saddles.
